

Prepared for the 1997 LIRT Conference Program
Focus on the Student: Emphasizing Learning Styles

onaBe45101gr

(1981): 182-84.

Ford, Nigel, Frances Wood, and Christina Walsh.

"Cognitive Styles and Searching." Online & CD-ROM Review 18 (1994): 79-86.

Gee, Donna B.

"Information Seeking and Use: Students' Thinking and Their Mental Models." Journal of Youth Services in Libraries 8 (1994): 69-76.

McNeer, Elizabeth J.

"Learning Theories and Library Instruction." Journal of Academic Librarianship 17 (1991): 294-97.

Midkoff, Ruby Bostick, Ron Towery, and Susan Roark.

"Accommodating Learning Style Needs of Academically At-Risk Students in the Library/Media Center." Ohio Media Spectrum 43:2 (1991): 45-51.

Nahl-Jakobovits, Diane and Leon A. Jakobovits.

"Bibliographic Instruction Design for Information Literacy: Integrating Affective and Cognitive Objectives." Research Strategies 11 (1993): 73-88.

Nahl-Jakobovits, Diane and Leon A. Jakobovits.

Wilson, Patrick.

"Bibliographic Instruction and Cognitive Authority." Library Trends 39 (1991): 259-70.

Zeglen, Tony, and Ken Boschman.

"Learning Styles and the Library: a Sample Lesson Plan." School Libraries in Canada 7:Sum (1987): 46-52.

Books

American Association of School Administrators.

Learning Styles: Putting Research and Common Sense into Practice. Arlington, VA: American Association of School Administrators, 1991.

Bracy, Pauletta B.

"Ethnic Student Learning: a Review of Research on Styles, Preferences, and Characteristics." Multicultural Aspects of Library Media Programs. Eds. Kathy Howard Latrobe and Mildred Knight Laughlin. Englewood, CO:

Schmeck, Ronald R.

Learning Strategies and Learning Styles. New York: Plenum Press, 1988.

Sims, Ronald R., and Serbrenia J. Sims, eds.

The Importance of Learning Styles: Understanding the Implications For Learning, Course Design, and Education. Westport, CT: Greenwood Press, 1995.

Turner, Philip M.

Helping Teachers Teach: A School Library Media Specialist's Role. 2nd ed. Englewood, CO: Libraries Unlimited, 1993.

Wyman, Andrea.

Learning Style: Its Place in Library Instruction. ERIC, 1989. ED 318 478.

Young, Victoria L.

"Applying the Principles of Adult Learning to the Design of a Two Hour Workshop for Adult and Part-Time Students (at Xavier University)." What is Good Instruction Now: Library Instruction for the 90s: Papers and Session Materials Presented at the Twentieth National LOEX Library Instruction Conference Held at Eastern Michigan University 8-9 May 1992 and Related Resource Materials Gathered by the LOEX Clearinghouse. Ed. Linda Shirato. Ann Arbor, MI: Pierian Press, 1993.

Compiled by:

Cynthia Krolikowski

Purdy/Kresge Library

Wayne State University

Detroit, Michigan