ISSN 0892

members to involve the librarians. Campus librarians played a significant role in the Iraq University Linkages Program. The University hosted three groups of faculty from Kufa University in Iraq in 2011, 2012, and 2013 for training, workshops, and classroom visits. UK librarians presented lectures and provided workshops for the Iraqi participants

The visibility of library collections has generally been tied to the Passport Program. Research guides are written to highlight the selected country or region.

Development Committee offered an intercultural workshop to staff and part-time student workers. More than 70 library staff members engaged with the Chinese Scholars and the South African intern, becoming more knowledgeable about libraries in those countries.

UK librarians increasingly are encouraged to present internationally. One will present at this year's conference and at the European Conference on Information Literacy in Croatia. It is a culture shift for library staff, but one that they increasingly are embracing.

Janetta Pegues, a library science student at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, has been selected to receive this year's Robert D. Stueart Scholarship in International Librarianship. The Council on Library and Information Resources awards the scholarship.

Pegues received a bachelor's degree from Roosevelt University in Chicago. She became interested in international librarianship while volunteering at a school in Gonaives, Haiti. "When I think about international librarianship, I think about international librarianship, I think of library professionals who are concerned about making sure the poorest people in the world have access to materials that will help them improve their lives."

The Rovelstad Scholarship provides travel funds for a student of library and information science to attend the annual meeting of the World Library and Information Congress, which this year takes place in Lyon, France, in August.

On behalf of the IRRT Executive Board, we hope to see you at the ALA annual conference.

The temperature will be high as will be the excitement around all the events planned by .45 205.61 Tm [(n be)4(ha)4(lf of)4(th) 276.8ve(1.23324(ha)4(lf oiP)4

Friday

Monday, June 30

The Many Facets of Volunteerism - ISLD
8:30-10:00am
Las Vegas Convention Center N264
Description: Join the International Sustainable Library Development Interest Group for an interactive program on how volunteers participate in library development projects worldwide through travel to project sites, through participation in library to library collaboration such as sister libraries, through interactive programming such as Skype, and through