

---

to-the-point. Their most likely mode of contact with the library was email, so it was important for me as the librarian to respond with a helpful and comprehensive