COMMITTEE NAME = Audio Books and Media Exploration Committee

CHAIR = Carly M. Wiggins

FUNCTIONSTATEMENT = To study and promote the use of media with the exception of videos and DVD's (covered by the Selected DVD's and Videos for Young Adults Committee) as related to libraries; and to prepare or have prepared selected lists of materials on additional formats of current interest.

ACCOMPLISHED = Since we last met, our new committee members have become familiar with the audiobook nomination process. All members communicate regularly via email with nominations for our list. We have begun to include annotations with all nominations prior to the Midwinter meeting. This committee has received approximately 200 audio submissions for this year.

TERMWORK = We will produce a list of notable audiobooks. Additionally, we have a number of items up for discussion. These include development of a ranking system and further definition of committee member responsibilities and criteria for nominations.

ACTIONAREA = advocacy, literacy, equity of access, education, diversity

STRATEGIESOUTREACH =

STRATEGIES = publication, conference, youth participation

STRATEGIESOTHER =

PARTNERS = teenagers, educators, parents, colleagues

CONCERNS = As the number of audiobooks published for teens and relevant to the teen experience increases, committee members have a large volume of listening to accomplish each year. Use of a ranking system will streamline the nomination process. Reviewing and codifying member responsibilities will help members focus their work for this committee.

FUNCTIONSTATEMENT = To select from the year's publications, significant adult and young adult books; to annotate the selected titles.

ACCOMPLISHED = We have closed our nominations for the year, ending with a total of 214 nominations. These will be discussed at our committee's final meeting at Midwinter in Boston.

We conducted two straw polls, looking for overall readership and preliminary votes. As of the first week of December, the committee's average readership is 70% of nominated titles.

TERMWORK = We will discuss the 214 nominated titles and conduct one more straw poll before our final vote on Tuesday, January 18. Then we will annotate our list of titles for publication in Booklist and on the YALSA website. The committee will also host a Best Books Teen Feedback session on Sunday, January 16, where teens from all over the country who have been reading from the list will have an opportunity to voice their opinions about the titles under consideration. Then the baton will pass to Lynn Rutan, 2006 Best Books for Young Adults Chair. Congratulations, Lynn!

CONCERNS = We would like some guidance from the YALSA Board about listening to unabridged audio productions of nominated titles, instead of (or in addition to) reading them. Past practice has been that this is an acceptable way to evaluate a nominated title, but concerns have been raised over whether an audio production enhances or detracts from the book experience. Is it possible that we could get a definitive ruling?

COMMITTEE NAME = 2005 Best of the best Preconference

CHAIR = Michael Cart

FUNCTIONSTATEMENT = To plan, organize and present the YALSA Best of the Best Preconference at the 2005 Annual Conference in Chicago.

ACCOMPLISHED = We have had a significant amount of correspondence on our closed listserv. I have asked individual members to be responsible for various aspects of the preconference. Pam Spencer Holley and I are coordinating logistics, while Pam is also coordinating the selection of discussion group leaders. Amy Alessio & Marc Aronson are working on teen participation; Betty Carter & Hazel Rochman are developing techniques for identifying important "overlooked" titles for discussion; David Gale is developing recommendations for a speaker who will address trends in teen demographics and marketing; and Jen Hubert is assembling a panel to discuss the impact of the Internet on the publication and promotion of YA books.

In addition, I have been working with Nichole Gilbert on publicizing the preconference and have recently written an article that Amy Alessio will publish in YA Attitudes.

The dates and times of the preconference have been established and registration has opened.

TERMWORK = We hope to finalize our planning, develop a detailed agenda, select and invite speakers, finish assembling the list of discussion leaders, and assign registrants to their respective discussion groups.

FUNCTIONSTATEMENT = To develop and pursue an aggressive and continuous campaign to recruit and retain members for the Young Adults Library Services Association, to promote the Association to our professional colleagues and to key partners as defined in the YALSA Strategic Plan, and to select annually two librarians (one from a school, one from a public library) who work directly with young adults to receive the Baker & Taylor/YALSA Conference Grant.

* We hope to plan for an inviting booth for Annual to promote all YALSA has to offer.

COMMITTEE NAME = Intellectual Freedom

CHAIR = Paula Brehm-Heeger

FUNCTIONSTATEMENT = To serve as a liaison between the division and the ALA Office for Intellectual Freedom and all other groups within the Association concerned with intellectual freedom; to advise the division on matters pertaining to the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and the ALA Library Bill of Rights and their implications to library service to young adults, and to make recommendations to the ALA Office for Intellectual Freedom for changes in policy on issues involving library service to young adults; to prepare and gather materials which will advise the young adult librarian of available services and support for resisting local pressure and community action designed to impair the rights of young adult users.

ACCOMPLISHED = We are cosponsoring a program with the IFRT for the Chicago conference and have been working with them to find appropriate presenters and local teens willing to serve on a panel for the program. The program description is as follows:

“We’ve Got Your Back: Teens and Librarians Speak Out on Intellectual Freedom”

“This program seeks to provide practical information on how Young Adult librarians can stand strong in defense of intellectual freedom. Real-life challenges to intellectual freedom will be shared by teens and librarians, followed by small-group discussions among audience members and teen and librarian panel participants. A lawyer with expertise in the area of teen rights and intellectual freedom will be present to offer advice on how librarians can react to such challenges.”

TERMWORK = We will be working hard to finalize plans for our next program (annual 2006)

I will also be catching up everyone on where the plans for that program stand and what their specific assignments will be.

We will also review information gathered at annual 2004. This information is intended to supplement YALSA web page resource section on Intellectual Freedom.

CONCERNS = I believe James Cook, former chair, submitted some proposal(s) for our 2006 annual conference program. I'm hoping our board liaison can review this information with the new committee (and with me, the new chair).

COMMITTEE NAME = Legislation Committee

CHAIR = Laurel Sandor

FUNCTIONSTATEMENT = To serve as a liaison between the ALA Legislation Committee and YALSA and with other ALA youth groups and units interested in serving this age range, to inform and instruct librarians working with young adults of pending legislation, particularly that which affects young adults, to encourage the art of lobbying; and to recommend to the YALSA Board endorsement or revision of legislation affecting young adults which might be proposed or supported by the ALA Legislation Committee.

ACCOMPLISHED = The chair sent an introductory email to all committee members with the list of committee members and contact information, explaining the de facto and de jure obligations of committee membership and asking committee members to email the group to introduce themselves and discuss their ideas for what to focus on in the committee. So far, responses have been few. The chair also reserved a room for a meeting at Midwinter of the Joint Youth Legislation Committees. As the YALSA Legislation Committee is responsible this year for sponsoring a program at the Annual Conference, the chair also worked toward this end by securing one of the speakers for the program.

TERMWORK = 1. To plan and produce a successful program at the ALA Annual Conference.
2. To identify a goal for this particular group of committee members to pursue during our term together (what part of the committee's function statement to focus or expand on).
3. To achieve that goal.

COMMITTEE NAME = YALSA Local Arrangements, 2005

CHAIR = Gail Tobin & Amy Alessio, co-chairs

FUNCTIONSTATEMENT = To handle YALSA local arrangements for the ALA Annual Conference, in close cooperation with the division president and YALSA staff.

ACCOMPLISHED = Committee members have started to select teens to participate in YALSA programs. We have also begun identifying places of interest to list, incentives and favors for conference attendees traveling to Chicago and attending YALSA programs.

TERMWORK = The committee would like to promote and facilitate teen involvement in YALSA programs. We also want to facilitate program attendance and participation for conference attendees at YALSA programs so they leave Chicago with a positive feeling about the city and YALSA.

ACCOMPLISHED = We are in the process of writing an article on our Annual conference presentation on ESL teens.

TERMWORK = We are planning to further explore the possibility of creating a high profile panel for ALA Annual 2006. Below are a couple of ideas to explore the power of partnerships in the 21st century:

1. Panel of young adult authors, directors of nationally recognized organizations, especially those that seldom or never attend ALA, and high profile elected officials who are recognized youth advocates, and young adult librarians
2. Panel presentation with authors, young adult librarians, high profile media mavens working in magazine industry, radio, television, music industry, and online providers who have a mission to do right and well by teenagers

The committee is developing content for a new section on Professional Writing. A new spotlight has been created with a tentative posting prior to Midwinter.

To select annually in accordance with the terms of the Book Wholesalers, Inc./YALSA Collection Development Grant, two YALSA members who represent a public library and who work directly with young adults.

The article captured the essence of the program (by the same title) we offered at the 2004 Annual meeting.

We have also just recently received the grant applications for the Book Wholesalers, Inc./YALSA Collection Development Grant, which we will be voting on at Midwinter.
